FYI

Thoughts on statement?

“Expanding production of renewable energy is important to our state’s economy and future and adding more solar capacity to our electric grid is a step in the right direction. Governor Cooper supports making North Carolina 100% powered by renewables and will continue to urge progress toward this goal.”

I think I'm going to wait until tomorrow to write anything, because Duke and/or the public staff hasn't actually signed off on this thing yet.

But I'll take comment on that eventuality. Tomorrow morning should be fine.
